The Church proclaims the Transfiguration from the Gospel of Matthew. Jesus leads Peter, James, and John up a high mountain, traditionally identified as Mount Tabor, and there His divine glory is revealed. In this radiant moment, the disciples glimpse who Jesus Christ truly is: the beloved Son of the Father.

Lent invites us to climb the mountain with Him. Like the disciples, we carry confusion, fear, and weakness. Yet the Father's voice still speaks: "This is my beloved Son; listen to him." The Transfiguration strengthens us for the journey toward Calvary. Glory and suffering are not opposites but mysteries united in God's saving plan.

As we continue our Lenten pilgrimage, may this vision of Christ's light renew our hope. When prayer feels dry or sacrifices feel heavy, we remember the mountain. We listen to Him. And we trust that beyond every cross lies the promise of resurrection.
